EDWARD LEHMAN DISCUSSES CONSUMERS' RIGHTS IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE INTERNATIONAL CONSUMERS' DAY

Beijing, China – March 16, 2007 – Edward Lehman, managing partner of the firm Lehman, Lee & Xu recently appeared on CCTV International's television show, BizChina, to discuss issues related to Consumer Protection. The report was featured on that particular day, as March 15 is International Consumers' Day. The show, hosted by Rui Chenggang, discussed various issues related to problems faced by Chinese consumers, who are increasingly becoming concerned with issues of product quality and misleading advertising.

"We're moving in the right direction. Just having this day which is more publicized in China than it is in the United States allows consumers to have information and will allow consumers to, one day, get together and be a very strong group in China. So it's just growing right now, but it's on its way," Edward commented.
