

LEHMAN, LEE & XU

雷曼律师事务所

PRESS RELEASE

CHINA BLAWG VOTED TOP 5 IN CHINA BLOG AWARDS 2007

Beijing, China – August 21, 2007 – Lehman, Lee & Xu is pleased that China Blawg has been voted by the public among top 5 in the law and business category in the China Blog Awards 2007.

China Blawg, as its name suggests, is a blog primarily focused on Chinese law and business. It is written by the multinational staff of Lehman, Lee & Xu, allowing for an intriguing blend of Eastern and Western perspectives on the latest happenings in China. A broad range of topics are covered, ranging from legal updates, news and foreign investment issues to colorful opinions and debates on the same, from those living in this vast and ever-changing land.

“We are happy with the results and wish all blogs the best, we hope to improve our blog and make it better in everyway. There is always next year”, commented Mr. Edward Lehman, the Managing Director of Lehman, Lee & Xu.

To take a look at China Blawg, please visit <http://blawg.lehmanlaw.com/english/>.

Lehman, Lee & Xu is an award winning Chinese corporate commercial law firm with strong M&A and IP practice. We have been identified by the Asian Legal Business Magazine as the 3rd largest law firm in China (26th largest in Asia) with more than 218 professionals in 7 offices across Greater China. The firm is managed by Mr. Edward Lehman, who has nearly twenty years of legal experience in China.